

DR. E. L. HOUSE IMPRESSES CROWD

Gives Three Lectures Sunday at First M. E. Church—Talks of Children.

Three large audiences heard Dr. E. L. House yesterday in the Methodist church. The addresses were listened to with thoughtful attention and made strong and lasting impressions upon the audience. At the morning service the subject was "Marching Men," and he took three of David's mighty men and showed how they went over the top. He called these men, The Man with a Grip, The Man Who Stood, and The Man Who Killed a Lion. He said the world needed men today who could grip the responsibilities of the hour and go over the top of every need. The call is for men who will stand against the drifts of the hour; for men who will save our cities and country from the Philistines, who would despoil. We must kill our lions that are moral.

The afternoon lecture. At 3 o'clock the subject was: "The Boy and the Girl," and the address gripped and held the attention of all, and it would have been worth a great deal to the homes of South Bend if every parent and every son and daughter could have heard it. He said: The critical age of boys and girls, or that between 11 and 17. Boys are adventurous, curious, destructive. Girls live in a world of romance, a realm of ideals. They are susceptible to the influence of strong personalities, for better or for worse. To sense such lives and direct them aright is the supreme task of the parent and the teacher. Now what can be done to conserve the best instincts of such opening lives? First make the home attractive. Make it the place of meeting instead of the street. Boys and girls are too often driven to the street by invidious parents who are disturbed by their youthful exuberance. But it is madness to send youth adrift, and the home must be more to them than the highways or they are lost. They must have amusements and it is their right that wholesome amusement be supplied. But we have left that to the world, and the world does the work for money, not for love. There must be better fathering and mothering.

Must Guard Children. The home must guard the rising generation. Then the parents must be careful how they live. Children get their idea of God and religion from what they see at home. There is for young people always the danger of peril of inexperience. The devil has his agencies watching for the unwary. Parents must be the first to teach their children the secrets of their being, and put to them on their fund of knowledge of the world in defense of sons and daughters. Fathers are not appreciated as they should be. In the home are the motives galore, but not any to the honor of "Dear Old Dad." The best academy for the boy is his father's counsel, and for the girl is her mother's knee. Because of the mother's great love and sacrifice she grips the child as none other can. Young people, there is only one being worthy of becoming the full owner of your soul. That being is Christ. Let Him mark out and control your destiny.

COX SIGNS TO TRAIN LAUREL HILL STABLES

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 10.—Walter R. Cox, of Dover, N. H., well-known grand circuit horseman, Sunday signed a contract to take charge of training operations at the Laurel Hill farm here, the home of Peter the Great, the world's greatest sire, according to announcement by Stoughton A. Fletcher, owner of Laurel Hill list of horses.

Cox will assume charge of the stable about Jan. 1, Mr. Fletcher said, and will bring some of the stars of his string now at Dover, including McGregor, the Great, leading money winner of the Grand Circuit last year, to train here.

The accident happened at Birdsell st. and Washington av. The girl was taken to her home in the police ambulance in charge of officers DeVos and Luther.

WAR TIME LAW A RESULT OF PARIS COAL STRIKE

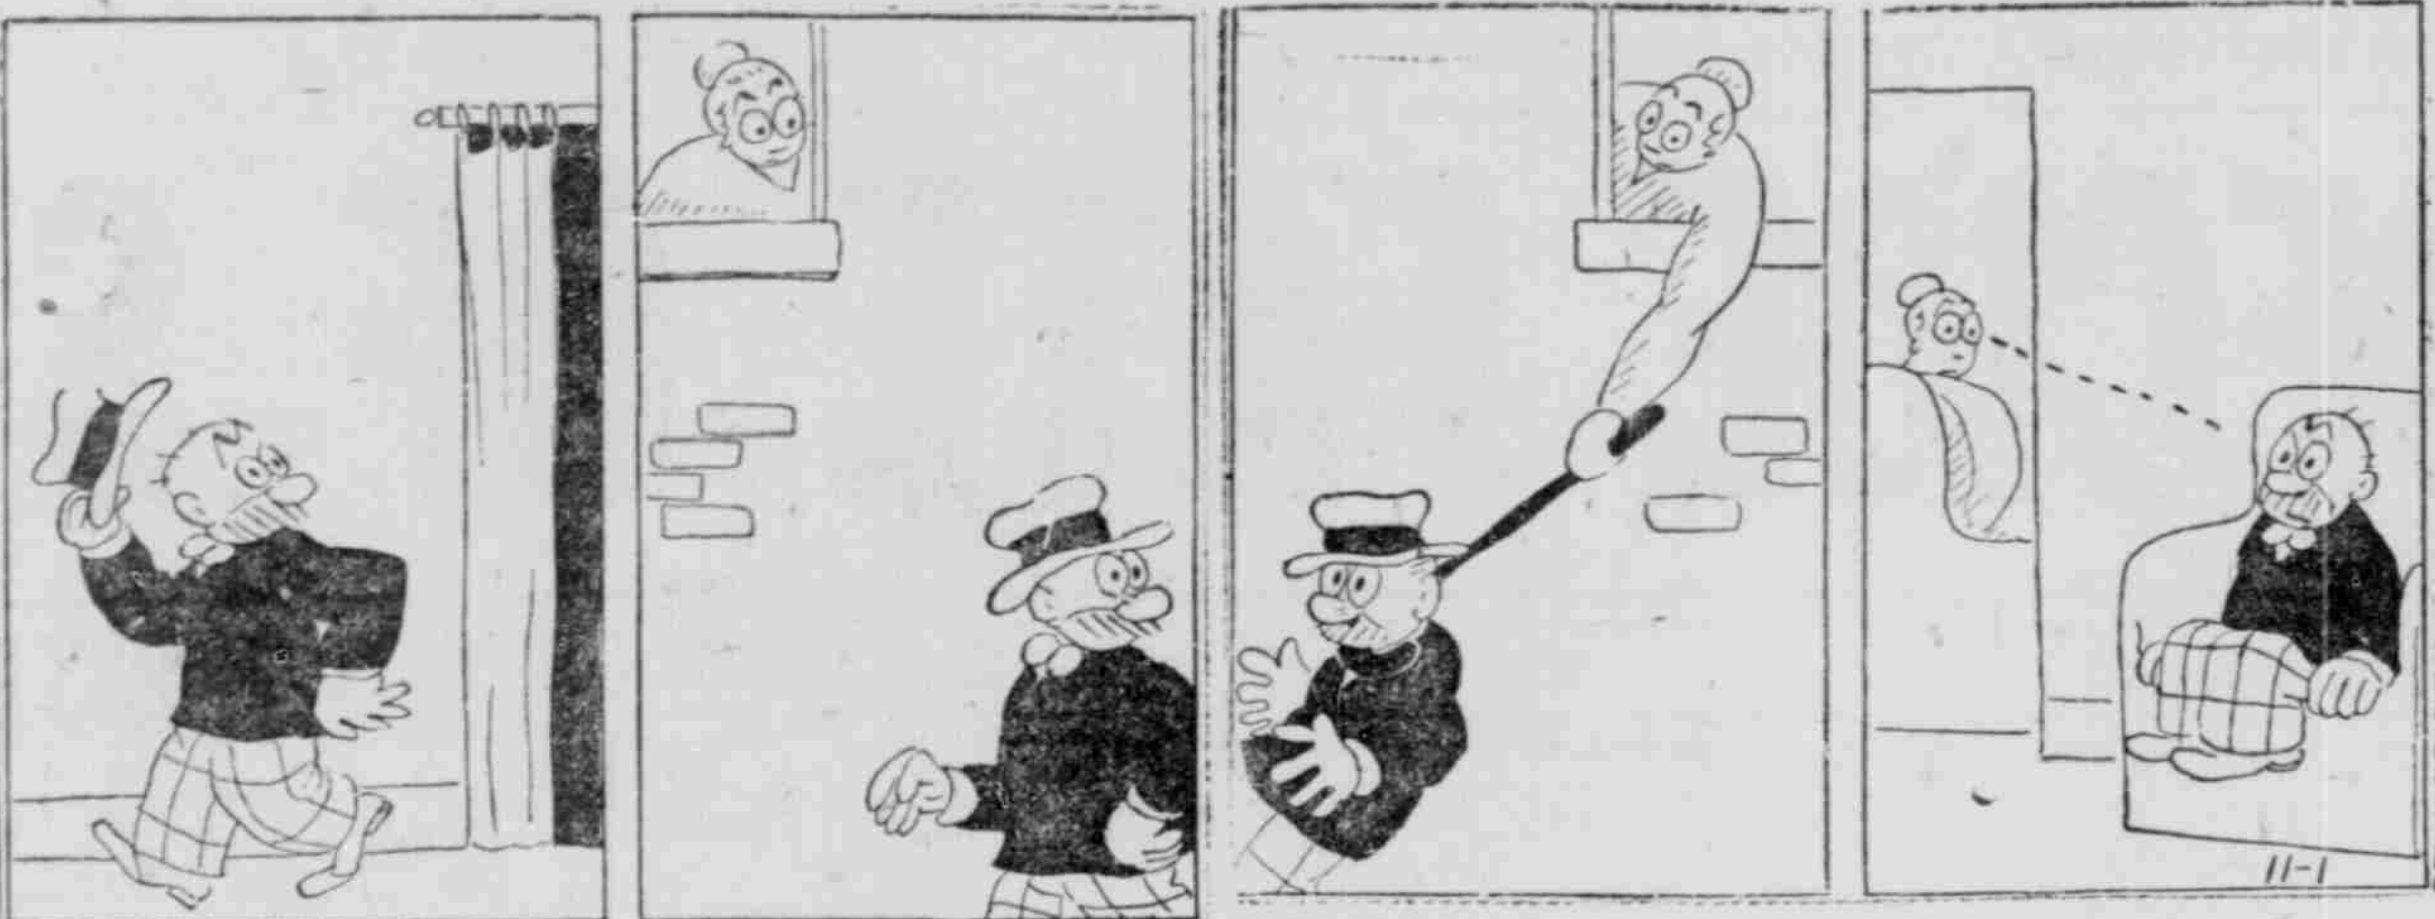

PARIS, Saturday, Nov. 8.—The coal crisis has become such that the prefect of police yesterday ordered great restrictions in the use of gas and electricity, virtually putting into force again the laws which obtained during the air raids on Paris.

A referendum will be submitted to the miners, asking them to work in additional hour daily, for which hour they will receive a 50 percent increase in wages. It is claimed that the additional hour will be sufficient to overcome the coal shortage.

Washington is no longer a model city. The rush of new growth has swamped it also. Its water reservoir has a capacity of 65,000,000 gallons, while the daily consumption for a year past has been 64,900,000 gallons.

Let the Wedding Bells Ring Out

TOO WORLDLY, SAYS REV. BECK

Right Order of Things Should Exist in Hearts of Men, He Declares.

That the thought of God and of His worship should be paramount in the thoughts of all men was the keynote of an interesting sermon delivered Sunday morning by the Rev. B. D. Beck at the Grace Methodist. The text, and his sermon in part, follows:

Text: Matt. 6:33: Seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you.

"Jesus shows us that it makes a difference in which order we seek even good and necessary things. First things should be in first places, eat, what they drink and what they wear than they do of God they are wrong. When they attach more importance to the kind of table they can spread, the kind of drinks they can serve and the sort of clothes they can wear than on the sort of character they have and the relations they hold to God and their fellow men they have their wires crossed. Jesus says that the kingdom of God and His righteousness should be first. That is the right order."

"When that order is maintained a man will choose to be honest rather than to be rich. He would want more to be right than to wear fine clothes. He would rather have the peace, the joy and the righteousness that God can put into a man's soul when his relations are right than to possess houses and lands, stocks and bonds. He may have these other things. The promise of God is that they shall be added in necessary amounts at least. But always he will hold it in his mind that these things of God's kingdom are of first importance. These he will seek first."

Spoil Order.

"A lot of people have spoiled this order. God is out of first place. They do not seek God's kingdom and God's righteousness first. They do not value character and right spirit as things of true worth. They measure folks by the kind of table they can spread and the sort of clothes they can wear. When some other men who would like to eat at these high class tables and wear these expensive clothes, because they have the same ideals, find they cannot afford to do so they fall to hating the other folks. They are going to get more money so they can spread such tables and wear such clothes or they are going to see that the other folks come down where they live. We have a world full of that sort of thing right now. No one class is to blame for it. They are not seeing first the things that belong first."

"There is nothing so much needed today as to follow Jesus in placing the kingdom of God and His righteousness foremost in our thinking and strive with all our strength to relate this life in ourselves and all others. It will take the emphasis off what we shall eat and what we shall drink and wherewith shall we be clothed, and put it on the things of first worth. An evangelistic campaign such as we are planning for this city, and such as the Methodist church and other churches are planning all over, in which this truth of Jesus will be preached over and over and, please God, practiced, will do more to straighten out these tangles of society and heal her sickness than anything else."

Railway Company Spirits Street Cars from City

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 10.—Car riders who last Tuesday voted for an order ordering the street cars from the streets because they were paying six and eight cents to travel to and from their work, Sunday were paying from 10 cents to 25 cents in auto busses, of which there was an abundance.

The Toledo railways and light company began last midnight to spirit the cars out of the city until not a vehicle with wheels under it was left within its jurisdiction of the city officials who were responsible for the ouster ordinance passed last June being submitted to the people.

Mayor Connell Schreiber himself introduced the ordinance when the company increased the fares from five cents to six cents and two cents for a transfer to take care of an increase in carmen's wages.

URGES SCHOOL FOR DEMOCRATS

Hoesier Lawyer Outlines Plan in Letters to Senators at Washington.

BY LOUIS LUDLOW
News-Times Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—The establishment of a university to train people to be democrats is the unique suggestion made by H. M. Settle, a lawyer of Greensburg, Ind., who has aroused considerable interest at the United States capital by sending a letter to every democratic senator, outlining his plan. If he has his way, the university will be established and it will be the democratic party's greatest adjunct.

Letter Follows.

In his letter to democratic senators urging support for his plan, Mr. Settle says:

"Let us train our embryonic statesmen as a church prepares its theologians for the ministry by establishing in some accessible center or centers a school of statesmanship where the ambitious young democrats may sit at the feet of party Gamallels and store up knowledge for dissemination among the unenlightened."

He asserts that the republicans have been successful in gaining control of practically every college and university, and especially the law schools "from which graduate nearly all our statesmen," and he regrets that they are being taught from a republican viewpoint.

Establish University.

"To obviate this," he says, "we should establish a university, owned, controlled and backed by an organization of democrats, where the boy or girl too poor to prepare themselves could enter. It could easily locate its students through the local democratic organizations."

Mr. Settle advocates the creation of a National Democratic Educational league to foster and finance the scheme by popular subscription, and he adds that it "would place the democratic party on an independent basis and enable us to refute readily the statements put in circulation by a system of malicious slander made by hirelings to satisfy their masters."

GOSHEN SHAMROCKS BEAT FORT WAYNE SAPPHIRES

Special to The News-Times:
GOSHEN, Ind., Nov. 10.—Before one of the largest crowds which has ever witnessed a football game here, the Goshen Shamrocks downed the Fort Wayne Saphires at Island Park Sunday by the score of 8 to 0. Both teams relied largely on straight football and few forward passes were used. "Dutch" Gripp, the Shamrock star, carried the ball time and again for substantial gains through the Saphires' line. The Saphires put up a good defensive game and kept down the score by stopping the onslaught of the Shamrocks several times, within the shadows of their own goal posts.
